

LECTURE 4

- Transformation and production of transgenic crops.
- Transformation is the heritable change in a cell or organism brought about by the uptake and establishment of introduced DNA. There are two main methods of transforming plant cells and tissues:
  - ❖ The "Gene Gun" method (also known as microprojectile bombardment or biolistics).
  - ❖ The Agrobacterium method