PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

With over 20 years of experience as a licensed network administrator and trainer, I specialize in Cisco and Certified Wireless Network Professionals (CWNP) technologies. My expertise includes troubleshooting network issues and establishing testing venues for various examinations, including Pearson VUE, PSI, SAT, GRE, and TOEFL. I hold a bachelor's degree in Physics and a master's degree in Information Technology, along with advanced certifications in Cisco and CWNP. Recently, I completed a data science and machine learning course at MIT. My dedication lies in utilizing my expertise in the establishment of test venues, including Cisco, CWNP, data analytics, AI, IoT, deep learning, and machine learning, to tackle real-world problems while also preparing students to become professionals, employable, and beneficial to themselves.
